Mace. Sunshine (2007) Directed by: Danny Boyle Written by: Alex Garland Starring: Cillian Murphy, Rose Byrne, Chris Evans, Michelle Yeoh, Benedict Wong, Cliff Curtis, Hiroyuki Sanada, Mark Strong

Is Sunshine a true story?

2007's Sunshine is many things: a visually dazzling Kubrickian odyssey, a brooding meditation on the sheer fragility of life, a subtle psychological study that descends into monster horror. Scientifically accurate, however, it is not.

How much money did Sunshine lose?

There are conflicting reports about Sunshine 's budget, with some pegging the number at $40 million while others say it's somewhere in the $25 million range. In either case, the film lost money. Reviews at the time were also somewhat lukewarm, and the film currently has a 76% critics score and a 73% Popcornmeter score on Rotten Tomatoes.

What is the best thing about Sunshine?

Easily the best thing about Sunshine is the cast. A 'salary cap' cast if I've seen one, there is absolutely zero chance that Boyle would be able to make this movie for $40 million dollars if he remade the movie today. Now certified A-graders Cillian Murphy, Rose Byrne and Chris Evans would likely command that figure by themselves.
